VOL CXXXI—90. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1915. PRICE, 2 CENTS

GERMAN SHIP TO ENTER DRY DOCK

Will Take Three Weeks to Make Repairs to Kronprinz Wilhelm

"I WILL NOT INTERN"

Commander's Exclamation Implies Probability That Ship May not Become Companion of Eitel.

Newport News, Va., April 15.—Lieutenant Captain Thierfelder, of the German converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, reiterates that he will not intern the vessel voluntarily after newspaper men told him it generally was reported he would tie up his ship here for the remainder of the war. "I, myself, will not intern," exclaimed the commander.

A similar stand, it was said, was taken by Commander Thierichens, of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, until the Berlin Government ordered the Eitel's internment, deciding against a dash through the cordon of allied warships off the Virginia Capes. Authorization to take the cruiser into dry dock has been given to Commander Thierfelder by Colonel Hamilton.

The cruiser will be moved into dry dock tomorrow. Her condition is such that it will require three weeks, it is said, to complete repairs for which her commander has asked. She is in need of boiler tubes, which must be manufactured elsewhere.

Knowledge of the whereabouts or operations of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, which had sought allied merchant ships in the Atlantic ocean, was disclaimed by Captain Thierfelder.

"We have not heard from the Karlsruhe," he said. "She was my own ship, and it would be nice for her to come in here. She has done so many fine things in the war that such a course would be like her."

STRAW BREAD VERY TASTY.

German Savant Admits Nutriment Supplied is of Doubtful Value.

Berlin, April 15.—That bread made of straw is tasty, but of doubtful nutritive value, is now the admission of Dr. Friedenthal, who recently announced that he had succeeded in producing a valuable food product from finely triturated straw.

Dr. Friedenthal explained his process at a meeting of the Berlin Medical Association. He declared that "straw bread is not entirely without nourishment, because some admissible elements are present."

Samples of tarts made of straw were passed around, and the epicures assembled found them decidedly tasty. Dr. Friedenthal will continue his experiments, hoping to substitute straw for potato meal.

HOLD CONFERENCE.

Plans for Improvement of Road Running From Braddock Heights to Rosemont.

A conference was held in Washington yesterday between representatives of the City Council of Alexandria, the board of supervisors of Alexandria county and officials of the bureau of public roads of the Department of Agriculture, looking to the improvement of the Russell road running through Bradock Heights and Rosemont. Tentative plans for its construction were mapped out. Alexandria city was represented by Alderman Maurice Wilkins and Alexandria county by Edward Duncan, supervisor of Jefferson district.

Fire late Tuesday night destroyed a small frame dwelling at the Potomac Railroad yards occupied by a number of track employes.

The Rev. G. A. Luttrell, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, has been transferred to Lincoln Road Church, Washington. He will be succeed here by the Rev. L. M. Fercuson.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Yeggmen entered the Hurlock, Md., postoffice early yesterday morning blew open the safe and took therefrom the previous day's receipts along with a lot of stamps, estimated at upwards of $2,000.

Mrs. Mack Thomas, of Pittsburg, Ky., was shot to death yesterday by her 13-year-old son beause she forbade him to take one of his playthings out of doors. The child stole behind her with a shotgun and fired both barrels, killing her instantly.

Mrs. Melville D. Church, Jr., wife of the junior member of the firm of Church & Church, patent attorneys, and daughter of S. W. Woodward, of Woodward & Lothrop, Washington, died early yesterday at her residence, 1608 Twentieth street northwest, following a brief illness of pneumonia.

"All talk of peace at this time is foolish," said Henry Gourd, president of the French chamber of commerce, with headquarters in New York, on his return from Paris yesterday. "Neither France, England, or Russia will stop fighting until Geramny is completely subjected. We must finish this war once and for all for the sake of our sons and grandsons.

Growing apprehension is being manifested among Democratic leaders in Washington over the effect which Secretary of State Bryan's recent utterances in behalf of the cause of prohibition will have on the lineup in the next National Convention. Despite Mr. Bryan's caution in confining his support of the "dry" cause to those individual States in which the liquor question is an issue, the fact that he has thrown his support actively to the "dry" candidate for the National Committee from Iowa has given rise to the fear that he will take a similar stand in other States that are to elect committeemen before the next convention, and, in that way, force the issue to the front in the convention itself.

PITTSBURGH BUSY ON SHELLS.

Westinghouse Companies And Others Have Large Orders.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 15.—Stories of unusual industrial activity in the Pittsburgh district because of the presence or orders for war materials have been received with more or less hesitation until yesterday, when a number of manufacturing concerns confirmed reports of their operations.

At the Westinghouse Airbrake Co., it was said that special machinery had been installed, and workmen were now making shrapnel shells, cartridge cases and fuses on a contract which will require a year to complete. The shells will be loaded by experts in Europe.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company is making large projectiles for the war, although the order came to it through an eastern steel manufacturer. Special machinery has been put in the shops, and repeat orders are expected.

A number of smaller concerns also are making ammunition, some shops working at a high speed to fill the demand promptly.

BANK OFFICERS MAY FACE NEW CHARGES

Alleged Violation of National Bank Act by Riggs Officers

HINTS OF POLITICS

Comptroller Williams Declines to Talk—Restort to Federal Grand Jury May be Result

Washington, April, 5—Interest in the efforts of the Riggs National Bank to get injunction against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller of the Currency Williams centers at present on the question of whether these proceedings might not be overshadowed by a counterattack alleging violations of the national bank act by the bank's officials.

Mr. Williams declines to discuss this phase of the matter or to indicate whether the government's case would go beyond civil proceedings It became known, however, that careful consideration was being given to all statements and correspondence between officials of the bank and the comptroller's office.

Before any decision is reached in respect to the Government's course, it is said, every bit of evidence in its possession will be examined with the greatest care, and resortt will be had to a Federal grand jury only if Treasury officials and counsel are convinced the law has clearly been violated.

Louis D. Brandeis, special Government counsel in the defense of Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams has been given an office in the Department of Justice.

Comptroller Williams says every effort will be made to have the Government's answer to the complaint ready for presentation to the District of Columbia Supreme Court on Friday Mr. Brandeis is expected to write the answer, and Jesse C. Adkins and United States District Attorney Laskey to aid in the argument in court.

There is much interest among lawyers in the suggestion that the Government's first plea to the bank's complaint might be that the courts lacked power to review an action of an executive officer.

Developments indicate that an effort is to be made to inject politics into the controversy between Comptroller of the Currency Williams and the Riggs National Bank, to such an extent as will obscure the real issues involved. Officials of the bank let it be known that they are seeking to enlist the support of the national banks throughout the country with the view of having it appear that they are fighting for the rightful privileges of these institutions against the alleged usurpation of the Comptroller. It is intimated that progress already has been made in this direction.

This move of the accused officials is regarded as exceedingly clever and it has the effect among other things of strengthening the impression already entertained in Democratic as well as Republican circles, that the Comptroller has permitted himself to be outdone at least in the contest of publicity. The big mistake which Williams made, according to the best opinion obtainable here, was in allowing himself to be drawn into a publicity contest at all.

The Comptroller indicates that he is entirely confident as to the final outcome, and well informed officials retain unshaken confidence that the facts will establish the probity of his refusal to sanction the acts for which the Riggs Bank was penalized under the national banking laws.

Republican leaders have made up their minds to avail themselves of whatever political capital they can make out of the case, regardless of the issue of right or wrong which may be disclosed.

The Allison W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow (Friday), at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Percy Clift, 217 north Columbus street. All the members are urged to attend.

AIRSHIP RAID ON ENGLAND

Bombs Fall at Places but Inflict Little Damage

London, April 15—An airship raid occurred on the northeast coast last night. Hostile air craft passed over Blyth about 8 o'clock, made a circuit over Wallsend, and traversed a large area of the Middle Tyne district, the center of one of the most important shipbuilding areas in the country. An eye witness in the neighborhood of Wallsend said:

"About 8:10 o'clock my attention was directed to a dark object in the sky, and I heard the noise of propellers in midair, then a number of sharp explosions at no great distance. Simultaneously I saw flashes of light in the sky, which were followed by loud reports, resembling a big gun. The flashes that accompanied the explosion illuminated the whole district.

"Very soon after the first series of explosions there was a vivid illumination at the ground level, as though the bombs had ignited buildings in some towns.

"The streets of Wallsend were quickly filled with men, women and children, and there was great excitement. One building was struck by bombs. All lights in the district were extinguished.

Newcastle, April 15—From the number of bombss that were thrown at Wallsend and Hepburn, it is evident the object of the raid was to damage the shipbilding works. A house on the road at Wallsend was struck by a missle which passed through the roof and brought down the ceiling of a bedroom in which a woman was lying. She escaped serious injury.

Bombs also were dropped at Annetsford, Killingworth, and other places but in no case was any material damage done.

STORMY WAR COUNCIL

Turkey Charges Germany With Abandonment—Former Wants Peace

Paris, April 15—A special dispatch to the Temps tells of a stormy war council presided over by the grand vizier, Prince Said Halem, just held in Constantinople to decide upon measures necessary to repel the allies' attacks.

Gen. von der Goltz told the council the German government would certainly make an important loan to Turkey shortly. During his recent visit to Berlin, he said, he impressed upon the military authorities the urgent necessity of organizing another Austro-German invasion of Serbia, but confessed that he was unable to obtain assurance that this could be done.

"Germany and Austria," said Gen. von der Goltz, "cannot now withdraw a single batttalion in order to aid Turkey."

Thereupon, Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey bitterly reproached Von der Goltz with Germany's abandonment of Turkey to the mercy of the allies at the moment the Turkish capital was endangered. Talent Bey cried. "It only remain for us to conclude a separate peace."

The grand vizier begged Talaat Bey to remain calm and asked Gens. von der Goltz and Limon von Sanders what guarantees Turkey held that she would not be attacked by Bulgaria at the moment the allies' operations in the Dardanelles took a favorable turn.

Gen. Limon von Sanders replied that Germany had reason to believe Bulgaria was friendly to her, but advised Turkey to strengthen the defenses of Adrianople and the Chatalja lines, so as to support German diplomacy and hold Bulgaria back.

He urged Turkey to do her utmost to prevent the forcing of the Dardanelles until the Austro-German armies have scored a big victory over the Rusians. Thereafter, he said, they would be able to effect a junction with the Turkish army and crush Serbia.

GERMAN PLUNGE AT RUSSIAN LINE

Muscovites Capture Beskid Mountain Height in 12 Hour Battle

THOUSANDS KILLED

Notwithstanding Austro - German Claims, Russians Reported to be Forging Ahead all the Time.

London, April 15— Sharply conflicting reports regarding the progress of the great Carpathian pass battles came from Petrograd and Berlin today.

A dispatch from Petrograd announced that the Germans are blowing up the railway tunnels through the Uszok pass in preparation for a retreat.

An official statement issued at Berlin this afternoon declared that the Russians have been badly beaten and checked at every point in the attempt invasion of Hungary.

The Russians are exhausted, the Berlin war office announced. Their attacks have grown steadily weaker in the last few days until the pressure on the Austro-German lines has almost ceased.

"The Russian attempt to use the Premsyl siege army to force an invasion of Hungary has failed," was the positive statement made at Berlin.

Petrograd, April 15—Fighting is now in progress with more or less intensity, over the whole Russian strategic front, fully 1000 miles in extent, of irregular winding line. At present the Russian lines show sharp salient angles towards the enemy over a considerable part of the whole front from the Baltic coast to the frontiers of Bessarabia.

The Germans are attacking more or less on both horns of the crescent shaped battle front of Russia. On the northern horn the Germans still hold a few miles of Russian swamps, and are fighting with some desperation there. On the other horn in Bukowina, fighting is still more stubborn and enterprising while about Koziowa and the Uzsok Pass very large German forces are engaged in trying to turn the fortunes of war. The fact that the latter region is the only remaining section over a 100-mile Carpathian front, where the enemy still holds one pass and some heights, explains the predilection of the Germans for this point of attack. If they finally lose this, as they have lost every other point, they can hardly hope to hold on the plains the enemy whom they have been unable to prevent from forcing the formidable barrier of the Carpathians.

Supposing for a moment that the seven German army corps should succeed in achieving the impossible and win the final victory at this point, whither does it lead? The point was chosen obviously for the purpose of relieving Premysl and basing upon that fallen fortress a reconquest of Galicia. But without a fortress for base, that is a dream even more futile than several other manifestations of German strategy.

The most they could now hope to accomplish, if they forced their way through from Uzsok Pass, is to cut the Russian communication. They will not do that, even if they did achieve the impossible task of getting through into Galicia. Meanwhile, the only result of their frantic attacks in this region has been more normous loss.

As matters are now, neither in Bukowina nor in the Province of Suwalki could the enemy's successes much affect the main advance, which, of course, is only aided by the enemy's failures in both regions. In the meantime, Russia is sending quantities of seed and corn into Galicia for free distribution to insure rehabilitation of the devasted new province as speedily as possible.

In a desperate attack by the Russians on the right flank of the Austrian position at Mezolaborez, on the Hungarian side of the East Beskid mountains and about 50 miles south of Permysl, the Austrians were forced after a 12 hour battle to make a precipitate retreat. The whole main crest in this district, which the Austrians considered to be impregnable, is now in Russian handss.

U. S. TO GET GERMAN DYES

Arrangements Practically Complete Regarding Two Cargoes

Washington, April 15—Officials of the State Department are prepared to take up with the German Government the last step necessary to supply American textile millers with two cargoes of German dyestuffs bought and paid for with American cotton before March 1. The way has been cleared by the announcement that the British Government had agreed to permit these cargoes to come through from Rotterdam under certain conditions, the recent order in council aimed at all commerce to or from Germany being set aside to that extent.

As the position previously taken by the German Government has been that it would permit shipment of dyestuffs in exchange for cotton or copper, some officials believed there would be little difficulty in getting these two cargoes out of Germany to Rotterdam. At any rate, only the consent of Germany is necessary to get this much needed supply for American mills, and State Department officials will co-operate with the millers' agent in efforts to complete th transaction.

A preliminary study of the messages indicated that the cargoes were already at Rotterdam.

"ZEPPELIN CELLARS."

Parisians Fled in Nighties When Buglers Sounded Alarm.

New York, April 15.—John H. Hanan, the millionaire shoe magnate, accompanied by his wife, returned yesterday from Paris aboard the Rochambeau. Mrs. Hanan sailed six weeks ago to nurse her husband, who was seriously ill in Paris. Both were in the Ritz on the night of the German air raid on Paris May 20.

"We were awakened about 2:30 a. m.," said Mrs. Hanan, "by buglers dashing through the streets on motorcycles. All the guests hurried to what was known as the "Zeppelin cellar.'

"I saw members of nobility there in pink pajamas and members of other noted families in nighties and their bare feet. Princess Anastasie of Russia rushed in with her hair in curl papers."

Mrs. Hanan said she could hear bombs exploding all over city.

ROBBERS HOLD UP FREIGHT TRAIN

Party Composed of Twenty Masked Men Act in Western Style

GET TEN AUTO LOADS

Engineer Cuts off Locomotive Under Fire and Runs to Bridge to Prevent More Extensive Looting.

Buffalo, April 15—Twenty masked robbers early today held up in true Western style a New York Central fast freight train near Sanborn, Niagara county, and escaped with ten auto truck loads of valuable silks.

The train was from Boston, bound for Chicago via the Michigan Central at Niagara Falls.

The daring of Engineer Morris Goss in cutting out his engine under fire and running into Suspension Bridge for help prevented more extensive looting.

The train had slowed down in passing through Sanborn at 2 o'clock this morning. A man suddenly appeared on the tracks and waved a warning.

Engineer Goss shut off his throttle and the train came to a stop.

As it did so two men climed into the cab and leveled their revolvers at the engineer and firemen.

The train crew left the caboose to find out the reason for the stopping of the train and these three men found themselves also confronted by two masked men, who shoved revolvers in their faces and ordered them to throw up their hands.

The trainmen were then ordered to march up to the engine and they went, guarded by the revolvers of the bandits. The five men were lined up alongside a car, and while one man kept them covered with a revolver the other robbers busied themselves in breaking into the cars.

It is estimated by railroad officials that the stuff stolen by the robbers, mostly silk in bolts is worth fully $50,000.

NEW WAR MACHINE.

Mechanic Goes to Washington to Show Invention to Secretary Garrison.

Kinston, N. C., April 15.—Ray L. Jobson, a local mechanic, has gone to Washington with an infernal machine which he expects to revolutionize warfare. People who have seen Jobson's ingenious if not practicable device say it is a wonder. He calls it a land torpedo. He will show it to Secretary of War Garrison and probably to a board of army officers.

It consists of a cyclindrical tube mounted on a small chassis, with small wheels, and a motor in the rear end of the tube.

A stationary tender furnishes the current for the automobile torpedo, which Jobson claims will make from 60 to 90 miles an hour. Even his model travels over the ground at a speed of 50 miles an hour. Two wires are unreeled from the torpedo as it races over the ground after the manipulator, who remains with the tender, has touched a button. One of these wires carries the current to the motor, and the other controls the machine's thunder.

When the operator wishes to get in his work he throws the switch off the motive power, whereupon the torpedo instantly stops; then, at the proper moment he touches another button. A dead sure cap and some 200 pounds of a dry explosive are snugly packed into an inner receptacle of the torpedo. There is bound to result some changes in the scenery in the particular landscape in which the diabolical contrivance is at the time located.

The question military men may ask Jobson is, who is going to get into the machine's way to get blown up.

The cost is trivial compared with the marine torpedo. Jobson says his machine can be constructed in any number at not more than $300 apiece.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

The musical section of the Cameron Club under the direction of its chairman, Mrs. O'Brien, held its last meeting of the season 1914-1915 at the residence of Miss Katie Uhler in north Washington street, last evening. A full attendance of the section besides a number of the other section members of the club was present to enjoy the musical treats provided for the occasion.

Mrs. John Leadbeater read a splendidly compiled paper on "Music as interpreted through the dance," covering a period beginning with biblical times unto the present day classic dancing.

Her paper was illustrated most charming by Miss Cecil Norton, a pupil of Miss Alys E. Bentley, whose rythm work is well known. Miss Norton danced most expressively to the violin accompaniment of Miss Ida Ullman and piano accompaniment of Miss Alice Moran.

Miss Katie Uhler read an interesting paper synopsizing the lines of the composers, James Bartlett, Margaret Ruthven Lang, and Ethelbert Nevin. Mrs. Pickett sang in sweet tones the "tra-la-las" of Nevins, "One Spring Morning."

The Seminary quartette, Messrs. Alfriend, Le Blanc, Doswell, and Lamb rendered very effectively Nevin's most popular "Rosary," responding to several encores.

Mr. Bagley sang "'Twas April," responding to an encore with a recently published song entitled, "War." The impression of the words of this song.

Hoof beat and trumpet blast
And banners in the dawn,
And what of the grain in the yellow field

When the husbandman is gone" fell with awesome truth upon the hearers.

Mrs. Russell ably accompanied Mr. Bagley.

Mrs. Downham, always a treat to hear, sang "Last Night I Lay Dreaming." The sweet strains of this ever popular song so full of melody, was much appreciated by the audience. Miss Lillian Callahan was her accompanist.

Among the current events opening the meeting, one of interest was given by Miss Mamie Lindsay, telling of Caruso's son who preferred to laugh with Harry Lauder rather than to weep with his father.

The literature section of the Cameron Club will hold its closing meeting for the season on Friday evening at seven thirty at the residence of the president, Miss Helen Cummings, in Cameron street. A very attractive program, an evening with the Poets has been arranged and all members of the club are cordially invited to be present.

An unusually attractive program will be given tonight at 8 o'clock at Christ Parish Hall to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the organization of the Parish Aid. The evening promises to be most enjoyable and all will be cordially welcomed.

A feature of the Children's Home benefit his evening at Elks' Hall will be a tableau in which will appear Misses Kathleen Watson, Julia Duncan, Helen Bowman, Katherine Newton and Harriett Spogord.

It will be illustrated in song by Miss Susie Pulman, assisted by Miss Mae Starnell, violinist.

Little "Miss Tulip" hopes to please with a popular song.

After the concert there will be dancing.

Petersburg, Va., April 15.—A meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Prince George county was held yesterday to consider applications from two companies for the privilege of constructing an electric railway through the county from Petersburg to City Point, a distance of 10 miles. SEEKING WOMAN'S SLAYER

Arrest of Wealthy New York Contractor in Murder Mystery

New York, April 16.—A cheap fountain pen, like thousands of a popular brand sold daily may bring to justice the slayer of Miss Claudia Hansbury, of Lansingburgh, N. Y.

The woman whose body was found stuffed under a pile of rocks on the Astor estate, the Bronx, was identified as Miss Hansbury today. The fountain pen was the clue that led to this identification and also to the arrest of RaffaelePiciullo, a prosperous contractor, married and with a family.

The woman's body was discovered by two boys hunting for snakes last Saturday. There was no clue to her idenity. The fountain pen was found later by police together with two rings, a pocket book and a few other articles. The pen was neglected until the last as it was exactly like a million others, but today it stands as exhibit A.

Detectives traced it to a Westchester dealer, who sold it to Piciullo. The contractor was located and on him was found a card bearing the name of Miss Christina Carr, who proved to be an aunt of the murdered girl. Miss Carr also identified the handwriting on some letters taken from Piciullo as that of her niece.

A photograph of Miss Hansbury was discovered in the contractor's home, and, despite his assertions of innocence, he was taken into custody Piciullo is married and the father of seven children. Several letters from another woman added to the mystery and started the police off on a new trail.

Miss Carr said that she last saw her niece on Good Friday, when she called on the aunt. She said she never had heard Miss Hansbury mention Piciullo.

MANY GO TO BALL GAME

City Deserted Yesterday by Baseball Enthusiasts Who See Nationals Win

Alexandria was shy several hundred of its most prominent business men yesterday afternoon while professional circles and city officialdom missed the presence of many of their shining lights. If a close search had been made they would have been found among the 17,000 raving fans that rooted the Washington Nationals to success in the opening game of the American League played in Washington yesterday afternoon.

As early as ten o'clock the electric cars to the capital were carrying a sprinking of Alexandria sport lovers who revel in the offerings of the national game. By noon the early contingent had been joined by many others and the late trains were fairly crowded with dyed-in-the wool fans. Many Alexandria ladies attended the game. Conditions were all that could be desired. There were fair skies and favorable atmospheric conditions for the inauguration of the season and everyone was out for a good time and had it.

President Wilson, who is an ardent devotee of the great national sport, occupied a box and tossed the first ball into the diamond.

So far as the game was concerned there was nothing partticular to enthuse about. The mighty Walter Johnson, the world's premier pitcher, had the New York Yankees completely at his mercy. Only two hits were allowed while the Nationals were able to do what they pleased with Warhop's offerings.

The final score was Washington 7, New York 0.

REBUILDING RHINE FORTRESS

Basel Sees In German Work Belief French Will Advance

Basel, Swittzerland, April 15.—The German military authorities, according to advice reaching this city are reconstructing the formidable fortress at Istein, five miles from here on the Rhine

The barracks inside the fortress have been completely pulled down and extensive underground barracks to take their place have been dug and quarried out of the earth. Furthermore, the river Rhine is being dammed so that when certain sluice gates are closed, wide stretches of the surrounding country can be flooded.

Observers in Basel are expressing the opinion that these preparations are in anticipation of a French offensive being successful.

ISRAELITISH COMPLAINTS

A dispach from Berlin states that all Jews in the Baltic provinces of Russia have been transferred to Siberia for political reasons.

Five American Jewish workingmen organizations issued a joint statement in New York yesterday branding as false the recent denial by the Russian official press bureau, in behalf of the Russian Government, of charges that Jews in Russia had been persecuted during the war.

The statement asserts that the facts prove that Russian Jews have been the victims of cruelty by the Russian soldiers, and calls upon the civilized world "to protest against the policy of the Russian Government, which has only one aim in view—to exterminate the Jewish race."

As instances the statement cites the following:

"Jews who fled from their homes near the war zone and sought refuge in towns outside the pale of settlementtt were expelled by the police and compelled to return to their war-striken places.

"Jewish wounded soldiers who were brought from the battlefields to hospitals outside the pale of settlement had to return to the pale of settlement as soon as they could crouch along on crutches. In many cases they were transported to the pale settlement on the third day after the amputation of one of their limbs.

"The reason for these wholesale expulsions was the terrible general charge brought against the Jews that they are German-Austrian spies. These illfounded charges were made public by the Russian authorities, with the result that the Russian masses and the Russian soldiery became infuriated against the Jews."

While we are not disposed to credit all we hear of Russian cruelty towards the Israelitish race, it is significent that most of the Hebrews who come to this country from Germany and the land of the Czar are steeled against the Muscovites. This was noticeable back in the latter seventies when Russia and Turkey were at war. Recollections of Russian barbarities towards Israelites in certain sections of Germany many years ago still fester in the hearts of those who have made their homes in the new world.

It is unfortunate for the allies at this time that such resentment is being shown by Jews toward one of the great nations now fighting Germany.

"NOW IS THE ACCEPTED TIME."

The Virginia Health Department is, very properly, calling attention to the fact that now is the time to place cities and towns in a sanitary condition before the advent of hot weather. The unusually cool spring is affording ample opportunity for housekeepers to eliminate everything offensive or unsightly from their premises, and while this obligation rests upon each and every resident, municipalities should not leave a stone unturned and every foul gutter or cesspool or pile of susspicious rubbish should receive immediate and thorough attention. The Weather Bureau announces the approach of higher temperatures when stagnant pools and filthy gutters will become offensive and breed disease.

Typhoid fever caused considerable alarm in this city last year, and the unusually large number of cases sent apprehension into many households. There is no malady more to be dreaded, and those who languish for months and pass through elongated convalescence realize the importance of guarding against its reappearance.

It is hoped that all persons throughout the commonwealth will heed the warning of the Health Department and that the state will be singularly clear of typhoid or any other human affliction during the coming summer.

THREE CARDINALS ATTEND.

Celebration of 25th Anniversary of Catholic University.

Washington, April 15.—Five hundred leading Catholic clergymen and laymen are in Washington for the celebration today of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Catholic University at Brookland. Cardinal Gibobns, of Baltimore, delivered the sermon at the solemn pontifical mass whcih was celebrated at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Patrick's Church by Cardinal Farley, of New York. Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, assisted in this service.

The academic exercises were held this afternoon at the National Theater when honorary degrees were conferred upon 12 laymen. At these exercises the principal address were delivered by Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, and representatives of leading Catholic universities throughout America were present and tendered congratulations to the Washington institution.

The pontifical mass was one of the largest ever celebrated in Washington. Within the sanctuary were seated eight archbishops, 30 bishops, 31 monsignors, eight heads of religious institutions, and more than 300 priests.

The exercises will come to an end tonight with a banquet by the Catholic University alumni at the New Willard Hotel.

REACHING ACROSS THE SEA.

Germany Said to be After Bethelem Steel Works

Bethlehem, Pa., April 15—German hands are reaching across the sea to grab the Bethlehem Steel Works.

According to what is declared to be inside information, financial houses representing German interests are responsible for the sky-rocketing of Bethlehem Steel stock during the last couple of weeks which has mystified the public, and they have been pouring gold into the stock market in unlimited quantities to accomplish their designs.

For some time past there have been rumors that Germans owned a big portion of the company's stock, but lacked control; a recent showdown at a meeting of the company developed the fact that Schwab's friends still held a majority vote. Still undaunted, according to reports in well informed circles, the German interest has continued to buy at every opportunity in order to obtain the necessary additional number of shares to control the company.

Should the Germans succeed in obtaining the control of the company, all contracts on the company's books for war materials to be furnished the Allies would be canceled. This might mean such a handicap to England, France and Russia as would tip the scales of war down toward the German end.

JAPAN'S SHIPS AT TURTLE BAY

Reported to Have Placed Mines in Lower California

Los Angeles, Cal., April 15—Japanese marines and sailors 4,000 strong backed by five Japanese warships and six colliers and supply ships, are occupying Turtle Bay, Lower California, Mexico, justt 409 miles from San Diego.

With the harbor, the best north of Magdalena Bay, mined, a camp and wireless plant on shore, and patrol boats for miles out at sea, the Japanese were busy marking out moorings for ships sending cutters filled with armed men ashore, and landing ammunitions, declares a correspondent who entered Turtle Bay just a week ago.

A base in which half the Japanese navy could anchor, Turtle Bay today would be hard place for any warships to enter if the Japanese wished to keep them out. The excuse advanced by the Japanese for their occupation of the bay is that the Asama one of their first class cruisers is aground near the entrance to the harbor.

With mastheads lowered four Japanese cruisers the Isuma, the Tokioba the Chitose and one cruiser whose name the correspondent was unable to learn, were well within the inner harbor during his stay in Turtle Bay. When he left there four days ago the British colliers Lena and Protesilaus of Liverpool with three Japanese colliers, the Fenang, the Maru, and Kamakra, of Tokyo, were with the warships. No lights were shown aboard any of the ships at night.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Freight Train Strikes Street Car—Thirteen People Killed.

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—Thirteen persons, ten of them women, were killed and twenty-seven injured late yesterday in a collision between a Detroit city street car and a string of freight cars pushed by a switch engine on the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad. Most of the dead are foreigners whose homes were beyond the western limits of the city.

The street car, one of the largest in the service, was heavily loaded with passsengers homeward bound from their day's work.

As the car approached the railroad crossing it stopped, and the conductor ran ahead to see if the track was clear. He signaled the motorman to wait, but apparently the latter, who is said to have been inexperienced, misunderstood his meaning. He applied the power and the car ran rapidly down an incline and onto the railroad tracks.

A string of freight cars being pushed by a switch engine struck the street car fairly in the middle, smashing it almost to bits. The wreckage was pushed along a hundred feet, several of the dead and injured dropping along the street before the train was brought to a standstill.

Others were crushed in the splintered mass of steel and wood, and it was several hours before they could be extricated and their exact number known.

Many private automobiles rushed to the scene of the accident, and these, together with the ambulances which responded to the call for help, carried the injured to the hospitals. Seevral of those so removed were so badly hurt, it is said, they may die.

USES SACRED OINTMENTS.

Rev. Baker P. Lee, Formerly of Hampton, Curing Sick and Blind.

Richmond, April 15.—Virginia friends and acquaintances of the Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Los Angeles, and a son of the late Major Baker P. Lee, of Hampton, will be interested to know that he claims to be healing the sick and blind by laying on hands and anointing with sacred oils.

The following dispatch from Los Angeles tells the story:

"The Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ's Episcopal Church, has declared that he was healing the sick and blind by laying on hands and anointment wtih sacred oils.

"Sa far, he declares, more than 250 well known persons in Los Angeles have been healed before the altar in Christ's Church.

"The Rev. Lee says this is the first time in America that such a healing service has been introduced into the Episcopal Church, but that arrangements were being made to introduce it in Philadelphia. He brought his ideas back from England, where he found the long lost rite of the church had been revived in a small church near London with marvelous success.

"The Rev. Lee declares he has held services each Friday for the last four weeks, eighty-five attending last Friday. He is aided by Dr. Lawrence Idlean, assistant rector, who holds the vessel containing the sacred oil, which has been blessed, with one hand, and lays the other on the arm of Dr. Lee. The latter then makes the sign of the cross and utters his healing prayer, and the sick and the broken, according to Dr. Lee, arise cured."

Poole came to this country from England about three years ago and bought the farm known as Mansion Hall, near Ironsides. He moved to Pisgah a week ago in order to have medical attention.

With the exception of a servant, he had always lived alone, having been separated from his wife, who is now supposed to be on her way here. He was said to have been a morphine user and failure to obtain the drug is supposed to have led to the act.

TABLET FOR JOHNSTON.

Marks Spot in Richmond Where he Was Brought Wounded.

Richmond, April 15.—In front of the house at 2615 East Broad street lies today a simple memorial tablet for General Joseph E. Johnston, who was carried to the Crenshaw residence which once stood upon the spot, desperately wounded after the batttle of Seven Pines. The tablet commemorates the fact that the great Confederate general, one of those leaders whom the Federals feared the most, was carried thither, and that he was nursed back to health, so that again he could strike terror and dismay into the hosts which were so often flung against him.

The exercises were appropriate but simple. A small crowd of veterans, members of the various Confederate societies and of others who still preserve interest in the story of The Lost Cause, gathered about the house, and still others who live nearby gathered in their windows and porches to watch the scene.

The ceremony was under the auspices of the Confederate Memorial Litterary Society, with Branch B. Morgan presiding. He explained the motives that had prompted the laying of the tablet in the pavement, and introduced Rev. James Power Smith, D.
